6. Description of activity (incl. objectives, results, conclusions)	1st Nordic Network conference on Forest Policy Science From the 13th to 15th October the 1st Nordic Network Conference on Forest Policy Science was held in Uppsala. More than 50 participants mainly from the Nordic countries have joined the conference. Sessions with presentations and workshops comprised an impressive spectrum of issues ranging from the local to the international level. Social scientific studies on forest policy issues have increasingly evolved within the past decade at several scientific organizations. So far the scientists dealing with these issues have only been loosely coupled. The aim of the organizers of the conference, a team from SLU and the University of Eastern Finland was to strengthen the network in order to establish strong research area. The conference has achieved all our aims. It has shown common approaches and synergies of complementary results. But it helped as well to identify challenges and further needs – in regards to urgent research topics but as well in regards to collaboration”. A second conference is planned for Copenhagen 2013.
