SNS super-year: three open calls with deadline SEPTEMBER 30th 2021

Right now forest researchers in the Nordic region can apply for three different kinds of funding from SNS: networking activities for five years, networking activities for one year and research projects running for three years. The deadline for all the open calls is September 30th 2021, but the prerequisites differ somewhat. Read more about the respective call below.

Don't miss out on the matchmaking day, arranged in connection to the open calls, more information below.

Annual networks

SNS wants to promote collaboration and strengthen forest research in the Nordic region. Focus areas:

- Maintenance and increased utilization of forest-based ecosystem services
- Climate change mitigation and adaptation
- Meeting the demands of sustainable forest management in a growing bioeconomy

Research projects

SNS wishes to support projects addressing topics related to sustainable management of forest resources, as well as projects exploring ways to balance different/conflicting goals related to forests.

The aim of the call is to interlink projects initiated in the Nordic region, increase synergies in forest research, promote cross sectoral collaboration and bridge gaps between research and forestry in practice.

NordForNet – networking five years

With the NordForNet (former CAR) call SNS wants to provide means for long-term networking and coordination.

Biodiversity, the role of forests as a carbon sink, forest resilience and forest resources as a source of value and job creation in rural areas are priority areas for SNS.

Charlotte Augustini, forest owner:
"We need female role models"

Charlotte Augustini changed her life, by quitting as a teacher to become a forester. She has made experiences valuable for other women entering a heavily male dominated sector, and has thoughts about how to attract young women and make forestry a possible first choice for them.
