The SNS and NordGen Forest joint call for scholarships is open

If you are in the field of forest seed or plant production, regeneration methods or tree breeding, this is your chance! The call for SNS and NordGen Forest scholarship is open for applications between December 15–February 15. Your project or activity must be relevant in a Nordic setting and contribute to a common Nordic benefit. You can apply for maximum 25 000 NOK. The grant can be used for travelling costs, accomodation, conference fees, printing your thesis, equipment, laboratory expenses or something else that contributes to the Nordic forest sector in one way or the other. Use the link below for all requirements!
