

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES:

Funding instruments are at the core of SNS's work. We provide the following opportunities:

Annual Networks: One year networks that establish closer collaboration and enhance Nordic synergies in forest research. Networks can for example organize workshops, write policy recommendations, research applications, and create databases.

Research Projects: Three-year funded research projects addressing specific research questions from a Nordic perspective.

NordForNet: Five-year funded networks supporting long-term networking with an interdisciplinary approach and a strong policy connection.

PhD Courses: Funding for organisation of PhD courses in forests and forestry with a Nordic component to facilitate cross border exchange contributing to synergies and collaboration.

NordGen Forest/SNS Scholarship:

Funding for education, training, and knowledge exchange in the fields of forest seed and plant production, regeneration methods, and tree breeding.
Administered by NordGen Forest.

ABOUT SNS:

Nordic Forest Research (SNS) is a co-operating body under the Nordic Council of Ministers unifying forest researchers across the Nordic region. We strive to enhance benefits and contribute to a green, competitive and equal Nordic region.

MISSION

SNS wants to promote, coordinate and enhance joint Nordic forest research efforts to increase synergy at a Nordic level and to link research with policy by providing sound, evidence-based, policy relevant information to policy-makers.

STRATEGIC PROJECTS:

The SNS secretariat runs several projects strategically relevant for the Nordic Council of Ministers. The strategic projects are based on sound research results and aim to bring light on current issues that are relevant to the Nordic Council of Ministers, other decision-making bodies and society at large.
